Where to Stay

KA'ANAPALI BEACH Black Rock, a popular snorkeling spot. The Ka'anapali boardwalk offers two miles of beachfront for walking and exercise. Most of the nicer beach resort hotels on Maui are fairly expensive. Its simply a matter of supply and demand. Here is VoyageMonkey's list (in no particular order) of where to stay to make the most of your Maui experience.

Located next door to the Grand Wailea Resort on Wailea Beach, this 5-Star hotel is perfect for couples and those seeking a luxurious romantic getaway with lots of pampering and personal service. Wailea has the sunniestFOUR SEASONS, WAILEA whether on Maui as it's the driest part of the island. The Four Seasons is rated one of the top hotels in Hawaii. It features a palatial open-air design

The U-shaped design of the resort ensures good ocean views from most rooms. Standard room rates are expensive, however all amenities are free except for the spa. Everyone who stays at this resort loves it. The service is excellent. The only negatives we've heard is that some rooms are set back a little too far from the beach and that the ocean views from the pool area can be obstructed from all the private cabanas.

The Ritz-Carlton, Kapalua (One Ritz-Carlton Dr., Kapalua). This 5-Star 445-room hotel offers the spirit of aloha with class and is home to the PGA TOUR season-opening Mercedes-Benz Championship. The two outdoor hot tubs are open 24-hours. Overall, the accommodations are first-class and the service is excellent. Golfers love this resort. This hotel is highly recommended. Rooms are expensive, but watch for promotional packages. Negative comments noted: The hotel is not directly "on" the beach (sits above the beach, set back on a knoll) so it's a short walk down to the beach, the pool is more popular; some drinks and food are overpriced; check-in can be slow on busy days; its not very lively (good place to read a book) so you drive a bit; and, they charge for use of the fitness center.

RITZ-CARLTON,
KAPALUA

The Fairmont Kea Lani Maui (4100 Wailea Alanui Dr., Wailea). This 5-Star all-suite & villa ocean front resort sits on 22-acres of tropical landscape in Maui's beautiful Wailea (Polo Beach) in southern Maui. FAIRMONT RESORT

Adults have just as much fun on the pool water slide. The spacious pool cabanas provide fresh towels, pineapple, cool washcloths and other pampering services. Babysitting is available. The Fairmont's beach, Polo Beach, is small and very private (although it is a public beach). The Fairmont shares an oceanfront-walking path with the nearby Four Seasons, Grand Wailea, Marriott Wailea and Renaissance Resorts. Great place for a sunset stroll or morning walk. This is a first-class resort surpassing your expectations. The service will spoil you. The accommodations are expensive but you do get a suite (that's a good deal). Its perfect for that special occasion. VoyageMonkey highly recommends this resort. Watch for regular promotions and packages. Negatives noted: the spa is over priced; restaurant food choices can feel limited after a few days; pool umbrellas go fast on hot days; guests often feel nickel and dimed for certain amenities, like $75 for cabana rentals, parking and the overpriced Polo Grill.

Hyatt Regency Maui Resort & Spa (200 Nohea Kai Drive, Ka'anapali).

This 4-Star, 806-guest room, resort sits on 40 lush beachfront acres at the southernmost end of Ka'anapali Beach. Ka'anapali is the best resort beach on Maui. The resort offers Camp Hyatt for children and Baby Sitting Referrals. Guest room rates are moderate to expensive. Children just love this place. Negatives noted: The pool area gets overly crowded; dining in the resort gets expensive and the food is "not that great" (except Son'z); the resort is a bit over priced for what you get and its starting to show its age and dated. However, if money is not an issue this is an exceptional family resort.

HYATT RESORT

The Westin Maui Resort & Spa (2365 Ka'anapali Pkwy, Ka'anapali). This 4-Star 758-guestroom resort sits on 12 lush ocean front acres in the center of fabulous Ka'anapali Beach, adjacent to Whaler's Village shops & restaurants. The resort has great Hawaiian ambiance and incredible views of the Maui Cannel and neighbor islands, Lanai and Molokai. Guest really love the central Ka'anapali Beach location of this resort. Children and all guests love the pool area. This is one of the best & most popular pools on Maui. There is a great activities desk that is very helpful and many of the resort amenities are free, like complimentary self-parking. The Westin offers a Kids Club, and baby-sitting services. VoyageMonkey recommends this resort. Rooms are moderate to expensive. There is no additional charge for children under 18 sharing a guest room with parents. Discounts and upgrades are often available if you join as a Starwood Resorts member. Also check VoyageMonkey for regular discounts. Negatives noted: rooms are just standard size but nice; if you don't like kids you will find many; and, the pool areas can be crowded in high season.

WESTIN, MAUI

The Sheraton Maui (2605 Ka'anapali Pkwy, Ka'anapali). Situated on Ka'anapali Beach at Black Rock, this 510-guest room 4-Star resort offers a romantic Hawaiian setting. Great for honeymooners and families alike. It's a quieter atmosphere than the neighbor resorts to the south. The open-air lobby has a crisp cool look that is carried throughout the resort. The grounds have a very open tropical feel giving you that peaceful less crowded atmosphere. There are six buildings in all, some are six stories. The majority of the spacious rooms come with private balconies and some of the best ocean views on Maui. Some of the rooms are on Black Rock (a lava formation that rises 80 ft. above the beach). There are some "family suites" that cater to families traveling with kids. They offer a children's program and kids ages 12 and under eat for free when dining with parents. The swimming pool resembles a natural tropical lagoon, with rock waterways and wooden bridges. Private poolside cabanas are available for a fee. There is a really nice pool bar. Best of all, the hotel sits next to the 80-foot-high "Black Rock," from which divers leap in a traditional nightly torch-lighting ritual. Black Rock is one of the best snorkel spots on Maui. Guests at other resorts on the island come here to snorkel. You will find spectacular coral, many varieties of tropical fish, and large sea turtles. Guests have great access to north Ka'anapali Beach and the resorts north of Black Rock. The resort includes a really nice boutique spa offering quite an array of services. The staff is very friendly & eager to help. We recommend this resort for snorkeling enthusiasts. The resort is expensive but the service is good. Come here if you find a great deal. Check Starwood directly for specials or VoyageMonkey. Negatives noted: the resort is a little dated in some areas; the resort is pricey and there is a lack of affordable dining and drinks (although the breakfast buffet is good); if you are not crazy about other peoples children, lots of kids like most Maui resorts.

The Westin Ka'anapali Ocean Resort Villas (6 Kai Ala Dr., Ka'anapali). This luxurious ocean side resort is located 15 minutes north of the town of Lahaina on 14-acres at Ka'anapali's beautiful and pristine North Beach. The 7-story premier Hawaii

The resort offers regular complimentary shuttle service every 15-minutes to Lahaina, Whaler's Village and the other local Starwood Resort properties. Self-parking at the resort is complimentary. Overall this is a great first-class vacation resort with excellent friendly service. Great for families and romantics. The resort is moderate to expensive. Good deals and package are regularly offered. Negatives noted: the coral reef is way to close to the beach making swimming a challenge; self parking can be a challenge with all the compact car stalls.

Marriott Maui Ocean Club (100 Nohea Kai Drive, Ka'anapali). This 4-Star vacation ownership resort property sits on 16 ocean front acres at popular Ka'anapali Beach. There are 311 spacious suites and 77 villas that are nicely decorated and include standard resort amenities like mini-kitchens. The MARRIOTT RESORT grounds are bursting with lush landscapes and tropical gardens throughout the property. The resort's heart is a large multi-tiered 3.5-acre super pool with waterfalls, grottos, relaxing pool bar, and a large water slide. There are also several Jacuzzi's. There is a children's pool section, complete with sandy beach and a pirate ship to play on. Adults can find a smaller less crowded pool on the property to enjoy. The resort has an excellent fitness center and beach activity center for your water sports needs. The restaurants are good for families but pricey like most along the strip. Room prices are moderate to expensive. The resort is great for families with children. Overall this is a good resort with excellent ocean views, excellent & convenient beach location on Ka'anapali Beach, and good staff service. Children love this resort. Negatives noted: the pool gets over crowded; swimming at the beach is a challenge because of rocks a few feet off shore; food is pricey.

Activities & Things to Do

Lets start with some popular day trips and points of interest to visit while in Maui. A good day trip is to journey to the "up country" area of Maui and visit Haleakala, a 10,023 foot-high dormant volcano. Haleakala is a 30,058-acre national Park. Visiting the crater at the top is a great photo opportunity. You will find breathtaking views of Maui and the neighboring islands. There are guided bicycle tours that ride down the volcano. It does get cold up there so layer your clothes. On the slopes of Haleakala you will find many farms, stables and "old Hawaiian" style towns. You can get a feel for old Hawaii and how the locals live. Taking an up country horseback ride is a popular activity for many visitors. You can also get adventurous and experience the thrill of a zipp-line ride and zipp over cliffs and valleys at the Haleakala Ranch. If you are visiting up country for the day the best restaurant to try is the Haliimaile General Store in Haliimaile. It serves Hawaiian Regional Cuisine and has won many awards.

HALEAKALA CRATER

HANA, MAUI

Driving the famous road to Hana is a very popular day trip. Remember, the trip to Hana is not about the destination but rather the journey. The actual town of Hana is very small with not much activity. Its like a town that time forgot. You can start your journey in Pa'ia, a small little historic plantation town in central Maui a few minutes east of the Kahului airport. Pa'ia has many small craft shops and art galleries featuring local artists. You may find some ex hippies from the 1960's. It's worth a stop. I've heard that country singer Willie Nelson sometimes hangs out there. The full trip to Hana and back takes up around a full day. The drive is very scenic down a narrow road along the coast. You'll drive over countless old bridges and pass by waterfalls, freshwater pools, black sand beaches and lush tropical rain forest foliage. You can stop and walk through the tropical Ke'anae Arboretum. This is one of the most beautiful drives you'll ever take. Some people make only part of the drive, taking in a few waterfalls and then turn around. That's fine too. Cheaters often take one of the many helicopter excursions offered and see Hana that way. Some of your best photos of Maui will be taken along this drive. If you'd like to spend the night and not rush back make a reservation at the Hotel Hana-Maui. On the way back stop by Ho'okipa Beach known as the windsurfing capital of the world. Sit and watch the windsurfers tackle the surf. The best windsurfers in the world make a pilgrimage to the Beach. Make it a plan to dine at the famous Mama's Fish House restaurant along the road just outside of Pa'ia. Mama's is the best restaurant in Maui.

If you remember the movie "Raiders of the Lost Arc" the Iao Valley State Park might look like a familiar spot. This lush tropical rain forest valley located just 4 miles west of Wailuku features an ancient 2,250 phallic pinnacle (the Iao Needle) that rises up from a stream. This is a great place to hike and take in the scenery. The park is a sacred place to Hawaiians. The local story goes that this was the site of many ancient bloody battles and the bones of ancient warriors are scattered here. The Iao Needle acted as a natural altar and Hawaiian chiefs were laid to rest here. If you visit Kahului for the day, this park is not far.

IAO NEEDLE

Excellent shopping can be found at Whaler's Village at Ka'anapali Beach and The Shops at Wailea. For less touristy shopping there are various spots in Kehei, Maui Mall in Kahului and Queen Kaahumana Center in Kahului.

SHOPS AT WAILEA

By far the most popular thing to do while in Maui is to check out its spectacular beaches. You will find some of the best beaches and snorkeling in the world on Maui. Here is a list of some of the best beaches to visit while in Maui.

1. Ka'anapali Beach. Located in west Maui minutes north of Lahaina, this beach offers miles of white sand, a paved boardwalk, resorts & dining, and lots of beach activities. This beach is for those looking for action.
2. Wailea Beach. Located in south Maui, this beach is in the dryer part of the island so it gets more sun. It's a beautiful white sand beach that stretches from the Grand Wailea Resort to the Four Seasons Resort. It's a great beach to people watch and for beach activities.

3. Makena Big & Little Beach. One of the longest beaches in Hawaii, these beaches feel secluded and often are. Located down a small road, Big Beach's long stretch of white sand is breathtaking. It's a great swimming beach but can get rough. Little Beach (clothing optional) is a secluded cove just around the north rocks of Big Beach. It's a great place to snorkel and find sea turtles.
4. Ho'okipa Beach. This is one of the best windsurfing beaches in the world. It's a beautiful beach and a great place to watch the professional windsurfers practice. Its in north Maui minutes east of the Kahului Airport.
5. D.T. Fleming Beach Park. Located just north of the Ritz-Carlton Resort in Kapalua, this beach park is excellent for picnics and body surfing. It's a good beach for families.
6. Honolua – Molule'ia. Just a few minutes north of Kapalua, this beautiful protected marine reserve provides some of the best snorkeling & swimming and it is also a popular surfing beach.
7. Kapalua Bay. This beach has beautiful clean sand, clear water and lots of lava rocks that make it a perfect snorkel spot.
8. Napili Bay. This is one of the most beautiful and scenic bays in Maui. The small white sand beach is gorgeous and there is great snorkeling on the edges of the bay. You can enjoy a good meal at one of the local resorts' beach restaurants.
9. Sugar Beach. Located between Ma'alaea and Kihei, this beach is a beautiful white sand beach that is popular for windsurfing, swimming and taking in the sun's golden rays.
10. Launiupoko Beach Park. Located minutes south of Lahaina, this pristine black sand beach has green lawns and a swimming pond for children. Families love to picnic here.

A very popular day trip is to take the family out to the Molokini Crater and Turtle Town on a snorkel sail. The Molokini Crater is the half-rim of a dormant volcano that rises above the ocean waters a few miles off the coast of southern Maui. The crater is a marine preserve and is full of spectacular coral and abundant with exotic sea life. You may get lucky enough to see a small White-Tip Reef Shark swim along the bottom. They never bother any of the snorkelers. This is also a great place to scuba dive. Tuttle Town is just off the shore between Makena and Wailea. It's a reef that is home to giant Green Sea Turtles. There are many excursion companies that have daily sails to the crater and Turtle Town. Many of them are located at the Ma'alaea Harbor north of Kehie. One of the best excursion trips is by "Pride of Maui." If you want to dive, Maui Dive Shop provides dive and snorkel trips to Molokini, Turtle Town, as well as several other popular dive and snorkel spots. The Ma'alaea Harbor, as well as Lahaina Harbor, is a great place to get a deep sea fishing charter. Maui has some of the best fish and the sport fishing is excellent.

While visiting Ma'alaea Harbor, children love the aquatic education experience at the Maui Ocean Center Aquarium Park in Ma'alaea. The aquarium features a clear acrylic tunnel through a 750,000-gallon open ocean exhibit. You will find exhibits of living native ocean coral, interactive touch pools, green sea turtles, various regional tropical fish, and experience close encounters with sharks and stingrays. At the Ma'alaea Harbor you can grab a casual meal at the local shops.

MA'ALAEA HARBOR

MANELE BAY, FOUR SEASONS

Day trips to the neighbor island of Lana'i are a great way to spend a day. There is daily passenger ferry service from Maui. The island is not very populated and there are just two Four Seasons resorts and one small hotel, a few restaurants, and a small 1920's-era town. You can get a real sense of old Hawaiian culture with a visit to this peaceful island. On Lana'i you can purchase an inexpensive shuttle pass that will take you between the harbor, Lana'i City, and the Four Seasons resorts. On Lana'i you can play golf at your choice of two courses, horseback ride, hike, snorkel, scuba dive, rent a jeep for the day or take a 4x4 island tour. Other than that, the island is very quiet with not much activity or amenities. Bring water and snacks. If you visit Manele Bay and the pristine beach that is shared with the Four Seasons Resort you may get the opportunity to swim with Dolphin in the wild. The waters off the beach is a popular hang out for these playful dolphin as they splash around with the snorkelers. The island is only 8-miles from Maui so the ferry ride does not take long. A good tour operator with daily excursions from Maui is Trilogy. You can enjoy a catamaran sail which includes snorkeling and lunch at the Trilogy Activity Center on Lana'i.

Golf enthusiasts simply love this island paradise. Maui and its neighbor islands of Lana'i and Moloka'i have over 20 golf courses. Green fees can range from moderate to outrageous. The resort areas have sensational golf courses. Kapalua Bay has three courses, Ka'anapali has two courses, Kehei has a reasonably priced course, Makena has two courses, and Wailea has three courses. There are also other great courses outside the immediate resort areas in central Maui and up country. People venture to Maui from all over the world just to play golf.

GOLF MAUI

HUMPBACK WHALE

Between the months of December and April Maui gets its annual largest visitor to the island, the great Humpback Whale. These 45-foot 40-ton gentle creatures migrate from Alaska every year to mate and give birth to their young. Whale watching is a must if you are in Maui during whale season. Until you've seen one close up in the wild it is hard to appreciate their size and majestic gracefulness.

These creatures are intelligent and curious. They will often swim up to whale watching boats just to see what is going on. The more noise you make the more curious they get. There are many excursion companies that offer whale watching trips. Some of the various catamaran sails will pick you up right off the beach in front of some of the major resorts. Otherwise you can find excursions in Lahaina Harbor or Ma'alaea Harbor. Often with the naked eye you can simply see these magnificent creatures just off the beach or from your hotel room balcony. They do come in fairly close to the shore from time to time to give you a show.

The traditional Hawaiian Luau is something you should experience at least once. They generally include authentic Hawaiian cultural music and dance (Hula) along with a traditional feast featuring kalua pig (pig cooked slowly underground), other native Hawaiian dishes and plenty of Mai Tai's. The most popular Luau is the Old Lahaina Luau at 1251 Front St. in Lahaina. This extraordinary Luau is authentic and maintains traditional cultural integrity. Other popular Luau's include "Drums of the Pacific" at the Hyatt Regency Maui Resort & Spa (Ka'anapali) and the "Feast at Lele" at 505 Front St. (Lahaina).

LUAU, LAHAINA

For the real adventure seeker, rent a Harley. These motorcycles can be rented throughout the island. If you do, be safe. Remember there are plenty of car drivers looking at scenery. Hawaii has no mandatory helmet laws so you can ride free with your hair in the wind. Sometimes you see someone riding along wearing a bathing suit and flip-flops. Use your head. Contact the Maui Eagle Riders rentals or the Harley Davidson dealer to rent a bike for the day. If you really want to cruise Maui in style and turn heads, get one of these awesome machines for the day.

You will never run out of things to do on Maui, particularly your dining options.

Dining on Maui

You will find some of the best dining on Maui. This has become a culinary Mecca for chefs experimenting with the fusion of Pacific Rim, Mediterranean and old Hawaiian flavors. If you like excellent fresh seafood Maui is the place for you. Most of the fine restaurants offer fresh fish caught daily by local fisherman and the finest ingredients using farm fresh locally grown organic produce. Many of the restaurants on Maui can be expensive, even some of the not so good ones. Although you can find some real good familiar mainland restaurants on Maui that are popular, like Kobe Japanese Steakhouse (Lahaina), Spago's (Wailea) and Ruth's Chris Steakhouse (Lahaina), the unique Maui restaurants are a better island dining experience. VoyageMonkey asks the locals what is good and then checks them out. Here is VoyageMonkey's list of favorite restaurants in Maui to fit your mood.

Mama's Fish House (Pa'ia). Mama's is in our opinion the best all around restaurant in Maui. The food and Island ambiance is simply the best around. This is the quintessential Maui dining experience. Mama's is located on a secluded pristine palm tree lined white sandy beach. The valet will park your car as you walk down to the beach. The garden setting around the old building is simply beautiful. The building is modest with that open airy Hawaiian look and feel. The interior decor and detail really gives you that tropical old Polynesia island feel. There are fresh cut floral arrangements through the dining room. Mama's has a full bar serving up the best tropical drinks on the island. Some visitors like to just stop in for that special drink and enjoy the setting. Every dish served will make your mouth water. Their menu includes the names of the local fisherman that caught your meal that day. The Mahi-mahi stuffed with lobster, crab, Maui onion, and baked in a macadamia nut crust is out of this world. The seared Ahi sashimi and crab cake appetizers are simply delicious. The service is always great and the staff is always friendly and eager to please. Mama's falls into the justifiably expensive category. Well worth it for the dining experience. Plan on dining here for that special occasion. Mama's is located at 799 Pho Place, Pa'ia, on Maui's North Shore. Mama's is a bit out of the way but worth the trip.

The restaurant is perched beachfront with views of the Pacific and the resort's pools & waterfalls. It's the perfect spot for a sunset. The restaurant offers a large open-air bar lounge, island ambiance, and outdoor patios with spectacular ocean views. The food is awesome. The grilled or Wok-fired steak and seafood is top quality and super fresh. Sharing dishes and ½ size orders make it easy to sample the extensive menu. The Sushi is master-crafted. Merriman's (Kapalua). This is a favorite for a romantic sunset dinner, and the food is delicious. Merriman's sits on the edge of a sandy beach perched over the Pacific. The view is spectacular. A big beautiful deck stretches out towards the water. With Merriman's great view and full bar, happy hour at sunset is very popular. The decor uses relaxing soft island tones accented by a sleek contemporary look. Formerly of the Hula Grill in Ka'anapali, Chef Peter Merriman provides a genuine Hawaii Regional dining experience, serving the freshest ingredients from local farmers to bring you the unique flavors of Hawaii. This is not your typical "Hawaiian Food" it's the flavors of Hawaii. Fresh off the boat seasonal sushi grade fish, grass fed island meat and local farmed produce. The menu showcases Hawaii's farms and ranches by keeping "Fresh and local" as the theme. The appetizers are great, an appetizer sampler plate is a good start. Entrees are delicately prepared to bring out distinctive flavors. I was fortunate enough to try the wild island boar which was fabulous. The wine list is very good and the staff is very knowledgeable about the wines and especially the food. The service was very good. Prices are moderate to expensive. One of Maui's ten-best restaurants.

The Plantation House (Kapalua). This is our favorite restaurant in the moderately priced fine dining & ambiance category. You can describe it as casual island elegance. Located at 2000 Plantation Club Dr. in Kapalua, this restaurant sits on the Kapalua Plantation Golf Course hillside overlooking the ocean and the neighboring islands. The view from this restaurant is spectacular, particularly at sunset. The restaurant is very open with high ceilings. The food creations of the Executive Chef, Alex

The restaurant is also a great place for breakfast, serving up several unique styles of eggs benedict on an extensive breakfast menu.

ROY'S, KA'ANAPALI

Roy's Ka'anapali Bar & Grill. Roy's is located at 2290 Ka'anapali Parkway in Ka'anapali. This is a casual yet elegant bar & grill, serving up some of the best Hawaiian Fusion Cuisine.

Located on the Ka'anapali Golf Course, the restaurant is very open and roomy with a view of the golf greens. Award winning Chef Roy Yamaguchi creates food that is artistic with its vibrant colors, bold exotic flavors, Asian spices and ultra fresh island ingredients. The menu has a strong focus on seafood, with daily specials, a prix fix menu, and there is an extensive award winning wine list. The appetizers are a delight. Many guests come in to have drinks at the bar and savor the appetizers. The Hawaiian Blackened Island Ahi and Roy's Classic Trio dishes are superb. The deserts are a nice finish to a perfect meal. The restaurant is very popular and with the open kitchen can get a bit noisy. The food is excellent and the service is good. The staff is knowledgeable about the menu items and the wines. The restaurant is moderately expensive but highly recommended.

Nick's Fishmarket has excellent food and service and is expensive, particularly with a bottle of wine. Nick's also has two sister restaurants on Maui, Sorento's on the Beach in Kihei and Son'z at Swan Court in Ka'anapali. Both are also notable top Maui restaurants with great food and ambiance.

DUO Steak and Seafood (Wailea). DUO, located at the Four Seasons Wailea Resort, specializes in premium Surf & Turf fine dining. The spectacular sunset views really enhance the unique dining experience. Award winning Chef Michael Lofaro has the ultimate Polynesian & Hawaiian atmosphere for dining. There is a 2100-gallon aquarium at the full bar that serves excellent exotic tropical drinks and pupus. For dinner just pick your Spiny Lobster straight out of the lagoon. The menu includes traditional island dishes such as Laulau, a dish of Hawaiian steamed fish in leaves. So what about the food? Is it good? This restaurant gets very mixed reviews on the food and service. Ask any local. You either love it or hate it. Here is the problem. We think it's "good food" but not great for the price. One thing that is consistent is the spectacular atmosphere, awesome ocean views, great drinks and the high prices. VoyageMonkey recommends this restaurant as an excellent place to come and enjoy an exotic tropical drink and appetizers at sunset. Try the seared Ahi on lemongrass stalks. Enjoy this place for the hard to match ambiance. Some of the best on Maui. There is also live music nightly to enjoy. Why take a chance on a full meal at those prices. Maui is full of excellent food to throw money at.

TS Restaurants: Duke's Beach House (Honua Kai Resort, Ka'anapali), Hula Grill (Whaler's Village Ka'anapali), and Lailani's (Whaler's Village Ka'anapali, 2435 Ka'anapali Parkway). These are three good sister restaurants of the TS Restaurants group, owners of Duke's at Waikiki Beach in Honolulu and in Kauai. Each of these three Maui restaurants are located oceanfront, include patio or deck dining and have great views. They serve traditional Hawaiian seafood, steaks, prime rib, lobster and local island dishes. The atmosphere is casual, the local decor is enjoyable, and the food & service is good. All three are very popular places to hang out, have pupus & cocktails and enjoy a terrific casual meal. Their happy hours are lively. Prices are reasonably moderate. A good place for family dining. All three can also be perfect for that romantic evening as you watch the sunset. The restaurants are famous for their Hula Pie, a concoction of Macadamia nut ice cream piled high on chocolate cookie crust topped with chocolate fudge whip cream and more macadamia nuts (good for sharing). We often skip dessert at other restaurants and stop by Duke's for coffee and split a Hula Pie on the romantic deck. These three sister restaurants are all fun good-value dining. Live music is often provided on weekends and certain weeknights.

Star Noodle (Lahaina, 1287 Front St. near Mala Ramp). We've driven by this numerous times on previous trips. It doesn't look like much. However, if you ask local people on the streets, grocery store clerks and hotel Bellman where they eat, this name came up several times so we had to take a look.

Each dish served is a work of art, and the taste is even better. The plantation setting is beautiful. The outdoor patio dining area overlooks a beautiful lake, the plantation grounds and West Maui Mountains. The Mill House feature a spectacular wine list and their cocktails are made from scratch.
